

No Peace By Reason

MANCHESTER, Eng. (AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery said today the Big 3 must remain strong to preserve world peace, because "I doubt if it is possible by reasoning alone to put an end to war."

1,000 Repatriates Leave for Homes; Many May Return

Their hearts stayed in Victoria when nearly 1,000 British repatriates from Jap prison camps left from C.P.R. docks today en route to their homes in the United Kingdom. Hundreds of Victorians, whose hearts have been won by the British servicemen, waved goodbye to their new-found and soon-lost friends.

Meanwhile letters of appreciation from ex-prisoners are being received by Mayor Percy George for the "wonderful welcome given to us by the people of British Columbia and your city in particular."

At the dock Pte. James Plommer, Royal Scots, said: "I wouldn't like the job of having to thank the people of Victoria," he said. "I couldn't find the words to express my feelings."

'We Tried to Stay But They Caught Us'

Waiting to board the Princess Joan, Pte. Plommer said: "We tried to stay away this morning, but they caught us."

Pte. Plommer, David Laws, Royal Scots piper and one of the youngest British prisoners of war at Hongkong, and another repatriate had spent all their time at the home of "Scotty" McDonald, former petty officer of the Royal Canadian Navy. "Scotty" was not happy at their leaving.

One man was determined to come back to Victoria to settle. He is Cpl. J. T. Sayer, R.A.M.C., who lives in County Durham.

"I'm glad to be going home, but very sorry to lose the friends I have made here," he said. "We've had a marvelous time... it's hard to express how we feel about it."

Cpl. Sayer plans on returning to China where he has a business, but is coming back here to settle as soon as he can.

"We can't thank the people enough for what they have done for us," he said.

Will Never Forget Sojourn in Victoria

Lt.-Col. E. Levett, writing Mayor George from Gordon Head camp on behalf of the men who came here aboard the U.S.S. Gosper, said: "For the kindness and help that we have received from the Red Cross workers and others it is difficult fully to express our thanks, but we would like you to know how deeply grateful we are, and to assure you that it will never be forgotten. The break in our journey has been made so happy that, anxious as we are to see our homes again, we shall leave British Columbia with considerable regret, but with many very happy memories."

Sgt. F. G. Pidgeon, Royal Artillery, who is now at Macaulay Point, writes to express his thanks "to the grand people of Victoria who have made us very happy during our stay here."

To Mayor George he said: "You sir, are very lucky to have such a community of grand and generous people. They have placed all the men I have spoken to in a position of not wanting to leave. The majority of us intend to come back to this 'little bit of Old England' to marry and settle down."

He praises the people, the climate and the natural beauty of Victoria, continuing: "We have been in all sorts of countries, but this one is definitely the best by far. All I can say now is that we have come, we have seen and we have been conquered by Canada."

He signs himself "an immigrant-to-be."

47 Hongkong Prisoners Get Warm Welcome Arriving Here

Forty-seven more repatriated Canadian prisoners of war from Jap camps received a warm welcome from other former prisoners when they docked here from Seattle at 12.30 today.

As the men boarded buses for Gordon Head they were cheered by more than 100 members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers and Royal Rifles who came here last week and who were waiting to board the Vancouver boat on their homeward journey.

All 47 who arrived today crossed the Pacific on the United States transport General Howze which docked at San Diego last week.

Pte. Lloyd Younger of Winnipeg who was taken prisoner Christmas Day, 1941, with the Winnipeg Grenadiers at the fall of Hongkong, told how he worked in a Japanese nickel factory in the home islands.

"Just so-so," was his description of his condition now. He had gone down to 94 pounds during his imprisonment and now weighed 187.

During his four years under Jap guards Pte. Younger had survived attacks of malaria, dysentery and pneumonia along with what he called "the usual brutal treatment."

GLAD TO BE BACK

"It's grand to have him back," said Mrs. E. H. McLean, Victoria, as she met her brother, Sgt. A. H. Hunter, Winnipeg Grenadiers. The sergeant's one ambition was "to get rested up and then go home."

Coalition Elects 38

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Coalition government of Premier Stuart S. Garson, swept back into power in Monday's Manitoba general election, today had elected 38 members to the 55-member Legislature, compared with seven for anti-coalition forces.

The re-election of A. W. Harrison, Coalition-Conservative, was announced today at the completion of the second count in Killarney. He defeated a Coalition Liberal-Progressive and a C.C.F. candidate.

Soft Time for German Women P.O.W.'s

Ford-Canada Strike Conference Ends With No Agreement In View

By Canadian Press

A conference called by Labor Minister Mitchell at Toronto, in an effort to settle the Ford strike, ended today with no agreement reached.

Another conciliation conference probably will be held later, since it was understood that the major reason for ending of the meeting was that Mr. Mitchell must return to Ottawa by plane this afternoon.

There was no immediate statement from participants in the four-way conciliation meeting.

The strike began Sept. 12 with a walk-out of 10,000 Ford employees at Windsor, Ont.

Discussions aimed at averting a strike in the five western Canada plants of Burns & Company will be held Oct. 22, it was announced in Winnipeg by Mr. Justice S. E. Richards, mediator in negotiations between members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) and Burns & Company. The company and union officials will discuss a master agreement sought by production employees in Winnipeg, Regina, Prince Albert, Edmonton and Vancouver.

SEES BARTENDERS K. A. Pugh, Alberta Labor Relations officer, was in Lethbridge, Alta., where he was trying to settle the strike of Lethbridge bartenders and beverage room waiters, members of the Beverage Dispensers' Union (A.F.L.), seeking a new agreement with the Alberta Hotelmen's Association for uniform wages and working conditions in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Blairmore.

TAKE STRIKE VOTE Tuesday night employees of the Swift Canadian Plant in Toronto voted in favor of strike action. Workers in the company's plant at St. Boniface, Man., will vote Thursday. Workers at the St. Boniface Plant of Canada Packers voted today.

About 150 workers at the Canada Packers' plant in Vancouver will take a strike vote Friday night and a similar ballot will be conducted among 90 Swift Canadian workers in Vancouver Thursday night.

Provisional Premier

Regent Archbishop Damaskinos of Greece.

ATHENS (AP)—Archbishop Damaskinos, the Regent, took over the government of Greece today as Provisional Premier, ending a prolonged cabinet crisis which he said he could not permit to continue.

Immediately after Damaskinos' induction all the members of the cabinet of former Premier Petros Voulgaris except Voulgaris himself and Undersecretary Lameropoulos were sworn into office. The Voulgaris government resigned last week. Damaskinos took over the reins of government after five previous attempts to form a cabinet had failed.

Not Backing Throne

LONDON (CP)—Philip J. Noel-Baker, Minister of State, said today that any belief the British government was promoting or hope for restoration of the monarchy in Greece "is without foundation."

H. W. Davey, B.C. Electric counsel, submitted the case would be the first of its kind before the Court of Appeal. He said it brought up a question of whether decisions of the Public Utilities Commission based on their views of expediency and policy are reviewable under questions of law and fact.

Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran presided.

1,000,000 Japs Granted Amnesty

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Hirohito, whose future has been a burning topic of speculation ever since the Allied occupation of Japan, granted amnesty today to nearly 1,000,000 Japanese as an openly avowed move to unite his country "in meeting a great change in history."

The Domei Agency noted that one effect of the rescript, honoring the day when the first rice crop is offered to the gods, would be to enable as many people as possible to take part in the coming elections.

"We, in meeting a great change in history, are indeed concerned to conquer the difficulties of the times with the country united as one and will trust to the co-operation and assistance of all the people," said the rescript. "Therefore, we have ordered our officials to carry out an amnesty. All our officials and people embody our will."

The rescript, unprecedented in scope, pardoned 320,000 Japanese, reduced the sentences of 37,000 and ordered restoration of civil rights to 600,000.

The Emperor's appeal for unity was made at a time when Japanese communists, celebrating the release of some of their leaders from prison on orders of Gen. MacArthur, were working openly for an end to imperialism.

He said the order was passed today. It gives immediate effect to the budget tax reduction of last week so far as payroll deductions are concerned.

B.C. Woman Missing

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP)—Rossland police today issued an appeal for public aid in locating Mrs. Effie Otfofen, 37, who has been missing from her home here since last Saturday, when she was last seen taking a bus for Trail. She lived with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Eastcott.

B.C.M.A. to Probe Doctor's Conduct

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. H. H. Milburn of Vancouver said today the British Columbia Medical Association likely will call a special meeting within the next two weeks to consider the case of Dr. D. W. Beach of McBride. Dr. Milburn is a member of the association's council.

A coroner's jury at Prince George Tuesday said Dr. Beach was guilty of "an inhuman act" in leaving three explosion victims to go on a hunting trip. The jury found Mrs. Ross Soucy, 23, of McBride, died of burns suffered when a gasoline lamp exploded at her home in McBride, Oct. 4. The provincial Attorney-General's Department has already announced it is making an investigation into the case.

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Extremists of the Nationalist youth movement got completely out of hand in many areas of Java tonight, killing and looting in frenzied zeal to show their hatred for Europeans.

Fifteen Eurasians were shot or hacked to pieces at Depok, 20 miles from Batavia, by wild-eyed followers of the Nationalist movement.

British Indian Gurkhas of the 23rd Division fought a pitched battle with about 800 rioters. At one point, 60 Indian infantrymen held off a mob until mid-afternoon, when 300 reinforcements arrived. British officers reported finally that the situation was in hand.

7 Beheaded In Wild Excitement

In one home in Depok, seven men and women, most of them advanced in years, were forced to line up facing a wall while two of the fanatics, armed with swords, went down the line systematically beheading them. Due to the extreme excitement, one of the women escaped death when she fainted and fell just as the sword whistled past her neck.

The Indonesian National Council awaited a reply from the Allied Command in the Netherlands East Indies to four Nationalist demands which Mohammed Hattin, vice-president of the council, said represented "the only way to bring peace to this troubled land."

(In Amsterdam Dr. H. E. Logemann, Minister of Overseas Territories, said the government was ready to offer Indonesians self government within the Dutch Commonwealth and would deal with Indonesian leaders "who merit consideration" but not with Soekarno, president of the "Indonesian Republic.")

The four-point program submitted to Lt.-Gen. A. F. Christison, Allied Commander in the Netherlands East Indies, calls for removal of all Japanese, deportation of all Dutch troops and prevention of the arrival of additional Dutch soldiers, a quiescent role for the Netherlands Indies civil administration, and recognition by an impartial United Nations committee of the Indonesian National Council as the de facto government of the country.

This correspondent asked Hat ton if he expected "to beat the Dutch by force when you have no guns, tanks or planes," and he replied:

"We shall win through peaceful means. That is why President Soekarno is now touring Java to restrain heated sections who use violent methods. But the Dutch aiming Tommy-guns at us does not help the situation. In fact it presages trouble. We stand on non-violence."

The Indonesians themselves, while fighting for independence from the Dutch, are attempting to maintain order. Also trying to restore peace are British forces, representing the Allies; the Dutch, including the Indies civil administration, and armed Japanese troops upon which the British authorities depend to patrol the country.

Britain Pledged To Support Dutch LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee served notice in the Commons today that Britain would back up the Dutch in their efforts to regain control of the Netherlands East Indies, where native nationalists are seeking independence.

"His Majesty's government do not desire to be unnecessarily involved in the administration of political affairs of non-British territories, and their object is to withdraw all British troops as soon as circumstances permit," Mr. Attlee said, but added:

"Meanwhile, not only are we under a strong moral obligation to our Dutch allies until they are in a position to resume control, but also to maintain law and order and particularly the safety of several thousand Dutch nationals interned in the interior of the country."

The "closest consultation" is being maintained between the Netherlands and Admiral Louis Mountbatten, Southeast Asia Commander-in-Chief, on problems in the East Indies area, the Prime Minister said.

Argentine Workers Call 24-Hour Nation-Wide Strike In Protest

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's largest labor organization, the General Confederation of Workers, announced today it had called a general country-wide strike for a 24-hour period beginning at 12.01 a.m. tomorrow.

Spokesmen for the union, which has a membership estimated at 1,500,000, said the strike was called in protest against "any government of oligarchs" and against "delivery of the government to the Supreme Court."

Police used tear gas today in an unsuccessful attempt to disperse approximately 2,000 strikers who demonstrated in the central part of Buenos Aires, urging the election as President of Col. Juan Peron, who was ousted by the army as vice-president.

Attorney-General Juan Alvarez, meanwhile, said he hoped the task of forming a new cabinet would be completed by tomorrow.

Political observers believed most of the appointments would go to the Conservative Party, or to right wing members of the Radical (Centre) Party. Alvarez himself is a member of the conservative wing of the Radical Party.

3 WATCHES STOLEN

Three wrist watches valued at $114.88 were taken from an open safe at MacDonald's Ltd., 704 View Street, Tuesday by a boy about 15 years of age, who escaped through a rear door into a lane, city police were informed.

Mrs. Wanda L. Abbott told Constables Samuel McKenzie and Arthur Rudge that she was sitting near the entrance to an alcove containing the safe when she heard a rustle of papers. Turning, she saw the thief leaving him but was unable to catch him.

Two watches were in yellow gold cases and were valued at $43.75 each, and the third was worth $26.88.

Union Denies Disunity in Labor

The Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers' Union, Local 643, suspended regular business after passing a special resolution on political action to hear C.C.F. candidates, Murray Bryce and Fred Bevis.

The resolution condemned as irresponsible statements which have been made suggesting labor disunity, and urged all unions recognize the economic struggle for an adequate standard of living.

Mr. Bevis said the C.C.F. was the only political movement in Canada which was owned and controlled by the workers, and urged closer co-operation between organized labor and the C.C.F.

Mr. Bryce said the real issue in this election is jobs.

"We have had full employment during the war because we departed from the old system," he said. "Unless we elect a new kind of government which will plan and use public enterprise to create jobs in peacetime, we will soon be back to the mass unemployment which existed before the war."

Over 100 Sleepers For Canada Veterans

Railway equipment to be supplied for the accommodation of thousands of Canadian veterans returning home on the French transport Ile de France at Halifax, Oct. 21, will include over 100 sleeping cars, nine dining cars and 15 cars of other types, it was announced today by Canadian Pacific Railway.

To be provided by the C.P.R. the cars will be used to make up nine special troop trains which will carry Canadian veterans of the European war across the Dominion to Toronto, London, Ont., Regina and Calgary.

Among those returning on the Ile de France and also routed westbound via Canadian Pacific to Regina will be 170 officers and other ranks of the 77th Canadian Field Battery.

Education Minister In Sask. Describes C.C.F. Legislation

C.C.F. Saskatchewan's education minister, Hon. Woodrow Lloyd, told a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, Monday, that because the people finance the party they control it.

"Voters in the provincial election," he said, "will not only choose a candidate. They will endorse a set of principles. The C.C.F. gives the basic method of socialist government."

Mr. Lloyd said that since the party's election in Saskatchewan the C.C.F. guaranteed security by two pieces of legislation. Evictions of farmers had been forbidden and no interest could be charged on mortgages during years of crop failure.

Second guarantee of security had been the spending of $1,000,000 more on education during the last year than previously. Most of this sum, he said, had been given to rural areas low in production.

"Educational opportunities," he said, "have been equalized. Before the C.C.F. came to power no rural school board had the power to provide high school education."

Mr. Lloyd pointed out that by a system of grant rural pupils were now being helped to get schooling in urban high school.

SOCIAL ASSISTANCE
Old age pensioners, recipients of mothers' allowances and blind pensioners were being helped through free medical and dental care, free hospitalization and drugs.

Stressing the C.C.F. had no intention of setting up a dictatorship, Mr. Lloyd contrasted the Saskatchewan government treatment of unions with that of Germany and Italy during the Hitler and Mussolini regimes.

He noted these countries had wiped out unions while the Saskatchewan government had passed legislation which had fostered their growth.

"Germany and Italy," he said, "wiped out co-operatives. Saskatchewan has given financial assistance to theirs."

W. McLaughlin was chairman and introduced Mr. Lloyd. Others on the platform were Murray Bryce, Mrs. Claire McAllister, Ernest Bevin and Mrs. May Campbell, candidates in Victoria and Oak Bay.

Development of B.C. for Decades Mapped By Coalition, Says Straith

Provision has already been made by the Coalition government for the development of British Columbia for decades to come, W. T. Straith, K.C., said Tuesday night. He added:

"We have accomplished everything we need to in Canada and British Columbia under free enterprise."

Mr. Straith, Premier John Hart and Mrs. Nancy Hodges are Coalition candidates in Victoria for the Oct. 25 provincial general election. Mr. Straith spoke at the Connaught Seamen's Institute Hall, James Bay.

Alderman D. D. McTavish presided.

Supporting the three Victoria candidates were G. A. Cameron, president of the Victoria Progressive Conservative Association, and W. A. McKenzie, former provincial mines minister.

Mr. Straith said the Coalition government had a standardized policy to deal with its problems. First, a commission was set up to study public and expert opinion on a problem, then a report was made to the government, and, finally, the government legislated on the recommendations of the report.

Development had been planned in the flax industry, agriculture, electrical power, education and municipal relations, Mr. Straith said.

All recommendations of commissions appointed by the Coalition government had been implemented, he said.

He cited as an example the Post-war Rehabilitation Council of six men and three women which considered 1,200 briefs and visited all parts of the province. Mr. Straith and Mrs. Hodges were members of the council.

Mr. Straith contended labor would "rather trust Labor Minister George Pearson than the airy promises of the C.C.F." In labor reform, he said, the same technique of legislation had been used as in other provincial matters.

A government-labor committee had been set up to map out new legislation.

MR. MCKENZIE
A resident of B.C. since the formation of party lines, Mr. McKenzie said he believed the Oct. 25 vote was the most important faced by the electorate during the past 40 years.

"Who do you think would best represent the interests of B.C."

at Ottawa?" he asked. "Premier John Hart and cabinet ministers he might take with him, or Harold Winch and any of his supporters who might be elected?"

Mr. McKenzie said the province should have experienced administrators to carry on negotiations at Ottawa on the future financial arrangements between the federal and provincial governments. Another matter he foresaw as requiring delicate negotiating was disposition of the provincially-owned P.G.E. railway.

"I think we are on the eve of the greatest era of development we have ever known," he said, adding thousands of service men and women and war workers were planning to settle in the province.

Tourists would come, tremendous sums would be invested in B.C. mines; plywood and other plants would be established and expanded, he said.

Mr. McKenzie said he would exclude all Japanese from the province and he believed the provincial government should make its opinion known so the federal government would be forced to take action.

Quebec and Ontario have said they did not want the Japanese, he said, and he believed the prairie provinces did not want them.

"Why should we be burdened with these yellow men?" he asked.

"The C.C.F. is not noted for consistency," said Mr. Cameron. "By hook or by crook it seeks to attain power in order that such power may be used for its own devious purposes."

"If we are to gauge the mentality of some of the men who would compose the cabinet of B.C. if the C.C.F. were elected to power from their puerile oratorical wanderings," he said, "we would be justified in wondering whether more capacity for administration might not be found in the ranks of the most backward students in our elementary schools."

"Within the ranks of the C.C.F. politicians is a woeful lack of practical experience in administrative functions; also there would appear to be a total lack of knowledge of what constitutes Dominion government and provincial government prerogatives."

C.N.R. Cup Offered Again in 9th Loan

The Devenish trophy for competition in the western region has again been offered by W. R. Devenish, vice-president of the C.N.R. western region, to the employee group subscribing the highest percentage of quota for the 9th Victory Loan.

The cup was offered in the 7th and 8th Victory Loans and won both times by the Prince Rupert Drydock and Shipyard.

The announcement was made at a meeting of C.N.R. officers from all over B.C. Tuesday, in Vancouver to discuss loan objectives.

Brig. R. A. Wyman, C.B.E., D.S.O. E.D., industrial agent of the C.N.R. in Vancouver, who commanded the 2nd Canadian Armored Brigade in the liberation of France, also addressed the gathering. N. R. Whittall, payroll savings section, National War Finance Committee, spoke briefly.

Restoring Economics Object of Unrra
Restoration of national economies to enable devastated countries to become self-supporting is one of the aims of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Association, which were explained by Prof. H. F. Angus to University Extension Association members Monday.

"Besides providing relief supplies," said Prof. Angus, "the organization is concerned with care of displaced persons, with control of epidemics and the restoration of the national economies."

He pointed out that the extent of devastation throughout the world was unpredictable in 1943, the year that UNRRA was formed. Financial arrangements include contributions from all members of the United Nations toward administrative expenses. Contributions were originally suggested as 1 per cent of the national income from countries that had not been invaded.

Prof. Angus told of the organization consisting of a council, central committee, director general with health, welfare, agriculture, industry, displaced persons and regional committees. There are also technical sub-committees and a permanent staff.

"Relief," he said, "is not to be used as a political weapon. No country would be expected to incur lasting external debt."

Beard Discusses Veterans' Affairs

Veterans' affairs and local matters were discussed by Cmdr. C. T. Beard, Coalition candidate of Esquimalt, at meetings in Sooke and Metchosin community halls.

Cmdr. Beard told his Sooke audience veterans' affairs were being well managed by the Canadian Legion. Ald. F. G. Mulliner spoke on the Cameron Commission at the same meeting, at which F. G. Waide and D. J. DeRoche presided.

Eric Makovski shared the platform at Metchosin and spoke on the differences in aims and objects of the Coalition and C.C.F. parties.

School Trustees To Meet in Vancouver
Annual convention of the B.C. School Trustees' Association will be held in Vancouver, Dec. 3, 4 and 5, at the Hotel Vancouver.

Trustee F. G. Mulliner, first vice-president of the association, announced here today.

The convention was originally scheduled to be held early in September at Port Alberni, but lack of hotel accommodation forced the cancellation of the convention there at the last moment.

Since that time the executive has been trying to get accommodation elsewhere, Trustee Mulliner said. The Vancouver School Board issued the invitation today.

The Victoria School Board can send four delegates to the convention. It is expected they will be chosen at the November meeting of the board.

C.C.F. Candidate Asks School Expansion
Need for expansion in school programs throughout the province was stressed by Dr. J. M. Thomas, campaign manager for Martin Neilson, Saanich C.C.F. candidate, at a meeting Tuesday night in Royal Oak Municipal Hall.

Dr. Thomas said pupils should be placed in classes according to their talents.

Mr. Neilson said public ownership of industries, the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. and other monopolies, would lead to rapid expansion of economic activities throughout the province.

Serving the people of B.C. rather than working for profits will be the first consideration of a C.C.F. government, he said.

Mrs. E. Doyle was chairman.

To Consider Room Rental Problem

The Saanich building committee, health inspector and fire chief will consider what action should be taken in the present housing emergency with regard to householders renting rooms in areas where operation of rooming houses is forbidden by zoning by-laws, the Saanich Council decided Tuesday night at its regular meeting.

It was suggested that while no licenses could be granted under these circumstances, registration of rental of rooms should be required, from the standpoint of public safety.

Appointment of John B. Tribe as municipal clerk was confirmed, on completion of six months' probation. The council also confirmed appointment of F. Stanley Green as municipal building inspector and appointed him controller.

The council received a statement of tax receipts showing that current tax collections to Oct. 13 this year were $343,440, or 88.65 per cent of estimates, compared with $305,194 to Oct. 13 last year, or 87.92 per cent.

Sanitary Inspector W. W. Shorrock reported he had inspected the sewage disposal plant of the Provincial Government Mental Home, Wilkinson Road, and found the septic tank and filter faulty and the ditch conveying sewage to Colquitz Creek in filthy condition. The council voted to advise the provincial health minister of the situation.

Reeve E. C. Warren was authorized to sign a salary agreement with municipal employees, fixing minimum and maximum pay schedules, on acceptance of the agreement by the employers.

OTTAWA (CP)—Net collections in the excise customs and income tax divisions amounted to $559,621,297 for the second quarter of the current fiscal year, a decrease of $67,481,171 from July, August and September of last year, Revenue Minister McCann announced Tuesday. Income tax collections for the last three months totaled $395,673,628, which was $18,397,985 less than the similar period of the previous year. Collections in the excise customs division amounted to $203,947,669, a decrease of $49,093,186.

All Sections of B.C. Will Get Commission's Power, Says Hart

By Canadian Press
Speaking at Courtenay Tuesday night Premier John Hart said there would not be a section of B.C. that will not be given service by the recently-formed B.C. Power Commission "at the earliest possible moment."

Announcement by the Premier earlier that recommendations of a commission which investigated educational costs in British Columbia will be implemented in full was the basis for additional criticism Tuesday night of the Coalition government by C.C.F. candidates in the Oct. 25 provincial general election.

Mr. Hart, in an address at Port Alberni, told a meeting of the government's intentions. The Coalition manifesto published recently said that instead of paying 32 per cent as in the past toward basic education, the government, if it implemented the commission's report, would contribute about 55 per cent in addition to university cost.

The report was prepared by Dr. M. A. Cameron, professor at the University of B.C. It calls for establishment of a uniform basis for taxation and setting up a commission to equalize assessments.

The report further urged abolition of personal property tax in rural areas for school purposes, reduction of the number of school boards from 600 at present to fewer than 100 and increased teaching staffs.

C.C.F. WANTS REPORT

Tom Alsbury, provincial president of the C.C.F. and party candidate for Vancouver-Point Grey, said the C.C.F. has no access to the Cameron report "of which the government is making an issue" and "we are supposed to give our stand on it, but don't know what it contains."

Mr. Alsbury said "the government and its friends know" the contents of the reports, but "the C.C.F. hasn't been able to obtain a copy." He said further that "despite extravagant claims, the Coalition government has consistently sabotaged teachers' salaries and education in B.C."

At Penticton, C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said that if a C.C.F. government is elected one of its big jobs will be to develop the province's health baths and spas.

He criticized the power bill passed by the last Legislature and said that under it "75 per cent of the power development of the province is not included."

SCORES LACK OF UNITY

Nigel Morgan, provincial leader of the Labor Progressive Party, speaking at Vancouver, attributed the responsibility for a Coalition victory in the Manitoba election Monday to C.C.F. "isolationist go-it-alone" policies.

"The Coalition won... because it entered the election united behind one candidate in each constituency, while the C.C.F., rejecting proposals for electoral unity among progressive groups, split the progressive vote wide open," he said.

The Coalition candidate for Vancouver-Point Grey, J. A. Paton, told an audience in his city the government "has already planned jobs for 100,000 men who will be called on to assist with the building of roads and with general development throughout the province."

"Highways now are being planned," he said, "that will open up vast new territories and provide opportunities for thousands of men to go into business for themselves."

Canada Prepares for Adoption Of International Security Pact

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's efforts to maintain national and international security in the future came up for discussion in the Commons Tuesday when Defence Minister Abbott disclosed the tentative size of Canada's permanent army and preliminary steps were taken for adoption of the United Nations' charter.

The debate on international security arose on a resolution calling for adoption of the United Nations' charter and the statute of the International Court of Justice signed at San Francisco last June. Participating were three framers of the charter: Justice Minister St. Laurent, Gordon Graydon, P.C., Peel, Ont., and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader.

Earlier Mr. Abbott had said the peacetime Canadian army would include an active force of between 20,000 and 25,000 men; bolstered by a reserve army of six divisions. This was followed by an appeal from Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., P.C., Nanaimo, former G.O.C., Pacific Command, that Canada's "two-army system" be abolished.

WANT EARLY MEETING

Mr. St. Laurent, acting Secretary of State for External Affairs, told the House that approval of the United Nations' charter was sought at this time because it was hoped a meeting of the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations would be held Nov. 8. Presumably the meeting would be held at London.

(The Preparatory Commission consists of representatives of all the nations which signed the charter at San Francisco. For some time an executive committee on which Canada is represented has been meeting in London preparing draft plans for submission to the commission.)

Mr. Graydon said he would support adoption of the charter and Mr. Coldwell indicated he would do likewise, although he took the floor only a few moments before the adjournment hour and postponed his formal speech until later.

Mr. Abbott's speech on army estimates completed the picture of Canada's proposed postwar forces. On the basis of the day's and previous announcements Canada's navy, army and air force strength will total about 55,000—five times greater than in prewar years.

He also said 153,000 of the remaining 175,000 men overseas would be home by March or April. The other 22,000 will serve an indefinite period with the army of occupation.

ASKS DEFENCE COMMITTEE

Maj. Gen. Pearkes suggested a committee should be established to review Canada's defence position.

Such a committee should consist of industrial and civilian leaders as well as professional members of the armed forces. "A sound plan now may save use very many anxious times in the future," he said.

The general said all members of the Opposition wished to join with Mr. Abbott in his expression of appreciation for the services of the soldiers during the war.

"We cannot slip back into the prewar attitude when the non-permanent militia or the reserve army, as it now is called, was allowed to become inefficient," said Gen. Pearkes.

The efficiency of the reserve army should be kept up and the permanent force which had lived a "cloistered life" before the war, should be kept in closer touch with the civilian life of the country, particularly in the fields of industry and science.

Speaking of the occupation force of 22,000, Gen. Pearkes said he had the greatest sympathy for Gen. Chris Vokes and every man serving under him.

The soldiers would be exposed to all sorts of temptation and consequently strict discipline would have to be maintained at a time when everyone wanted relaxation.

EXPOSED TO DISEASE

They would be surrounded by a destitute and perhaps starving population. Everything they had would be envied by the people around them. They would be exposed to the diseases which, it was feared, might sweep through Europe.

"It is undesirable and unfair to leave any man in that force for an extended period and those who have borne their share of the fighting before VE-day should be replaced without delay," said Gen. Pearkes.

Low-point men in Britain might be used for replacements, but their number was getting smaller. The government should say what other plans it had for replacement with well-trained, well-disciplined men of good morale.

U.S. Legislators Debate Minimum Wage Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace and Labor Leader Harry Bridges declared today the minimum wage level in the United States should be boosted from 40 to 65 cents an hour. Bridges added that even the 65 cent minimum, which will go to 75 cents within two years is "gravely inadequate."

The president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (C.I.O.) said "overtime is extra exploitation of the worker." He told a Senate commerce and labor subcommittee.

Irma Grese Tells Belsen Court She Whipped, Clubbed Women Prisoners

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
LUENBURG (AP)—In a voice charged with defiance, 22-year-old Irma Grese, admitted under cross-examination today that she had lashed prisoners at the Oswiecim concentration camp with a cellophane-braided whip and clubbed them with a walking stick.

She said she had scourged prisoners in spite of camp orders against such methods of handling them.

Wearing silk stockings herself, she frankly admitted she had thrashed women and made them kneel because "they behaved like animals."

She denied the pistol she carried at the camp was loaded or that she had taken any active part in selecting victims for gas-chamber executions.

The hard-visaged young ex-S.S. guard denied under questioning by Prosecutor Col. T. M. Backhouse that she had amused herself by sending women to work at a sandpit outside the wire, where they would be shot by guards on the alert for escape attempts. Col. Backhouse suggested she was lying and she snapped:

"I took an oath to tell the truth, and you can think what you like. But I'm not lying. I never was in charge of the working party at the sandpit. I never sent women across the wire." Extremely nervous under the barbed cross-examination, she tee that he believes double time should be paid for all extra work.

Wallace, appearing before a House labor committee, said:

"Certain industries should not be allowed to exploit labor by paying wage rates far below those already being paid for equivalent abilities in other industries."

The House and Senate are considering similar minimum wage legislation.

She also denied she had set trapped dogs on the prisoners.

"I suggest you had a dog," the prosecutor said.

"I should know better than you if I had a dog," she retorted. Later Prosecutor Backhouse accused her of habitually kicking and beating the women prisoners, and of enjoying the practice. The defendant almost rose from her seat and shouted:

"And I say you are badly informed about me and it's a big lie."

"You heard your sister say yesterday that when you were a little girl you used to run away if anyone wanted to fight you. I suggest you found it great fun to hit someone who couldn't hit back. Wasn't it?"

"No."

"Who gave you the idea to have the whip made?"

"Myself."

"Did others beat the prisoners?"

"I don't know..."

"It was just you who was vicious?"

"Viciousness had nothing to do with it," the defendant said with a shrug.

P.G.E. COMMITTEE NAMED

IN HIS RECENTLY-PUBLISHED COALITION manifesto Premier Hart announced that he hoped soon to name the personnel of a special committee of experts, whose duty it will be to "proceed immediately with a comprehensive study of all reports and surveys that have been submitted in the past, and which deal with the development of our northern resources and the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway." This promise, according to plan, has just been made good. The men named in Mr. Hart's statement made public yesterday would appear to possess all the qualifications essential to the task to which they will address themselves.

It will be recalled, too, that the Coalition's manifesto promised the repeal of the bill passed in 1925 under the provisions of which the Legislature authorized land grants for the purpose of interesting outside capital to develop and extend the provincially-owned railway system. This now means that any agreement—arising out of the negotiations that have been instituted and which may be forthcoming subsequent to the discussions based on the report and findings of the joint committee just announced—must have the approval of the new Legislature before it could become binding on the province. In other words, the interests of British Columbians in their own resources, whose development the expansion of the P.G.E. should assure, will be surrounded by adequate legislative safeguards. This is in conformity with the Coalition's general policies.

EXCELLENT NEWS

SUNDAY'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT the Central Executive Committee of the Yenan (Communist) regime had approved all the decisions reached recently between its political head, Mao Tse-tung, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek at Chungking was good news for the millions of friends of China the world over. The difference which had separated these two elements in the young Republic were bitter and of long standing. And both had legitimate claims of one kind or another to back them up. Their combined efforts against the Japanese had the earmarks of an armed truce which seemed destined to end after the expulsion of the Nipponese invader.

If the Generalissimo and Mao Tse-tung, therefore, have now set their minds to work in harmony, as the announcement indicates, it is a feat of diplomacy for which the whole world owes them thanks. And if the report of an agreement to reform the national government is good news, the forecast of general elections at an early date is even better. We Canadians sometimes forget that free, honest, general elections are a blessing not accorded the people of every nation. We often go off the beam on the emotional binge that precedes elections. But, with rare exceptions, the vote itself is an unflinched, unhampered and satisfactory solution of our major political problems.

Free general elections probably could settle the majority of the world's political problems today with equal satisfaction. But they are a device that fills some heads of state with fear, and others with a sincere, convinced distaste. Naturally, a government which holds office by force of arms fears the popular will. But there are also political philosophies which hold that a narrowly-representative government is preferable to one chosen democratically. If Premier Stalin, for example, were to be a candidate for the office he now holds in a general Canadian-type election, he probably would win easily. So if Generalissimo Chiang and Mr. Mao have decided to reshape China's government according to the popular will, it is a great and historic decision. A free election there would do much to give new meaning to the word democracy.

A TIMELY EXAMPLE

PROBABLY NO OTHER TIME COULD have been more appropriate for the Missionary Centenary of Canadian Churches than this period immediately following the greatest war in history. Seldom, if ever, has the need for spiritual regeneration been so great. Seldom have men required as they do now an appreciation of the ideals expressed in Christian ethics to guide them in the reshaping of human destiny.

There is a great lesson offered in the selfless work of those who go out from churches of this Dominion to foreign and backward countries, putting behind them the comforts of life as we know them to bring some enlightenment to those who live in relative spiritual darkness. The narratives of their quiet heroism and their relief of suffering are legion. It is their lot to live according to the principles of brotherly love as it is exemplified by their religion.

As Victorians note the events being held here to commemorate the centenary, they may draw from the record of missionary service a measure of spiritual sustenance for themselves. From the pattern chosen by the field workers to assist the weak and weary of alien lands, citizens of this community may well adopt principles which are equally applicable at home or far away.

THEY HAVE THEIR NERVE

SASKATCHEWAN SPEAKERS, MINISTERS of the Crown and members of the Legislature of that province, have been here to tell the people of this capital city of British Columbia how they should vote on October 25. For barefaced effrontery this takes the political cake. Since when have the voters of this and other communities of the province required outside advice on how to cast their ballots in an election which is entirely their own concern?

Happily in their own interests, of course, the intelligent electors of British Columbia see right through this C.C.F. technique. They know it is the result of policies and strategy drawn up by the third party's directorate in eastern Canada—the Scott-Lewis duo—and the growing fear in the minds of Mr. Harold Winch and his principal lieutenants that there is about as much chance of their party forming the next government in British Columbia as there is of pigs flying.

Ontario and Manitoba experiences of the C.C.F. evidently have taught the party nothing. And no citizen of this province was fooled by national leader Coldwell's suggestion the other day that the endorsement of the Coalition government would mean "five years of reaction and five years of poverty" for British Columbia. He was just talking through his hat; and we have a sneaking suspicion that he knew he was.

FOOD SPOILING?

WHAT ACTION BRITISH DOCK WORKERS wish to take in order to improve their working and living conditions is a matter of direct concern to themselves, their government, and the citizens who depend upon them to move cargo arriving in the ports of Britain. But the present strike will undoubtedly have repercussions beyond the territory immediately affected by the tie-up. It will raise questions in Canada, where efforts have been maintained to keep the flow of foodstuffs going to Britain and other countries in need. The public of this Dominion, like the labor unions here, can have little inclination to intrude into the domestic affairs of British stevedores. They are bound to wonder, nevertheless, how their efforts to relieve the hungry are affected by the strike.

According to today's reports, soldiers have been working on the London docks to keep the food ships sailing. The tie-up has immobilized scores of vessels and has delayed transport of 200,000 tons of food. It will be fervently hoped that the commodities which have gone from Canada and other countries to relieve the scarcity in Britain and continental Europe do not spoil. Such an eventuality would be discouraging in the extreme to this Dominion, which has maintained rationing in order to share its produce with those in greater need.

On those grounds, Canada is vitally interested in the dock strike. Canadians, of course, are withholding judgment on those engaged in the tie-up, realizing that strikers do not throw themselves out of work simply for a holiday. But this Dominion is surely entitled to an explanation of what is happening to food exported at some inconvenience to her citizens. And it would be the height of misfortune if countries bending their energies toward relieving scarcity were to become so disgusted with the inability of certain factions in Britain to settle their differences that they relaxed their relief measures.

UNO ARCHITECTURE

WHETHER THEY APPROVE OF THE design or not, people generally will admit that Architect Vincent G. Raney's model of a suggested United Nations Centre is spectacular, if nothing else. In life-size it might even achieve majesty and grandeur. But the picture recently printed leaves it with a counterfeit elegance. To untutored eyes, it looks a bit like something that belongs on a Christmas tree. There is an artificiality about it which, again to untutored eyes, suggests an unreality that should be lacking in a centre devoted to the cause it seeks to serve.

Not that the structure should be strictly functional in design. Far from it. There should be something about the mass of buildings to inspire the imagination, but along more traditional lines. We prefer to think of something nobly simple, where the aspirations of men might flower without the bizarre intrusions of 150-foot translucent balls or cement-curbed artificial waterfalls. We favor a type of architecture firmly based in the honest earth and rising in clear grace toward the stars.

After all, the designers are not concocting a futuristic piece for a World's Fair nor a super-colossal backdrop for a luxuriant Hollywood production.

A DESERVED DECORATION

PROBABLY NO MEMBER OF THE THEATRICAL profession contributed his talents to victory in a more unobtrusive way than Irving Berlin. No longer a youngster, Mr. Berlin lived a soldier's life among soldiers while he wrote his show for soldier actors. "This Is the Army." He tramped around his native land with the show, and without much fanfare. Later he visited overseas theatres, never complaining, as some others did, about accommodations, audience response, and so on.

Berlin's show in New York, on tour, and in film version netted the American Army Emergency Relief Fund more than $9,000,000. He well deserves the Medal for Merit pinned on him by General Marshall for "extraordinary service" in creating and producing "This Is the Army," and for "building and maintaining morale among soldiers and civilians" and for "contributing generously of his talent for the support of the dependents of fighting men."

Health Scheme Fails

By J. H. GRAY

FOR MANY MONTHS the C.C.F. spokesmen trooped through this country singing the praises of New Zealand's health scheme. On their testimony it was the finest public health plan ever devised and only the blind reaction of Canadian politicians prevented it being copied in Canada. Everywhere the cry was: If New Zealand can do it, Canada can do it.

Today no mention is ever made of New Zealand's wonderful health service. No C.C.F. spokesman in the Manitoba election had a word to say about it. Why? Because the whole plan, according to latest reports, has proven a fiasco. Hon. Arthur Nordmeyer, Minister of Health, told the House of Representatives recently that because of abuses, the government was considering abandoning the free medical scheme and was now negotiating with the New Zealand Medical Association in an effort to devise a satisfactory substitute.

THE STORIES of the abuses which have developed is told by the New York Times correspondent in Auckland. For a long time the government turned a blind eye on the widespread racketeering under the act. But this has now reached such proportions that it threatens to destroy the plan. Already the payments to doctors have reached a point 50 per cent higher than the estimated $5,000,000 total cost of the whole health scheme; and this despite the fact that many doctors are still in the armed service.

The increased cost of prescribed medicine has alarmed the health department. Figures previously published on the cost of medical care have been suppressed by the government for the last two years.

In New Zealand the usual practice is for physicians to charge patients 10 shillings ($1.76) per visit. The patient then takes the doctor's receipt to a post office and is immediately refunded 7s. 6d. ($1.32). For institutional cases the doctors collect 7s. 6d. chits for each patient visited.

ACCORDING to the Times correspondent the earnings of physicians have skyrocketed. One doctor made $6,000 a year by visiting patients in an institution one afternoon a week. Other doctors have pushed through patients at the rate of 12 an hour in an afternoon. Many doctors have been able to take summer-long vacations. Others refuse to make night calls. Because there are no surgical benefits, a racket has developed in which the doctors insist upon patients visiting their surgeries often enough to provide sufficient chits to pay for operations.

ANOTHER report on the medical racket by the Auckland correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor quoted a statement by Dr. G. M. Smith, medical superintendent of Hokianga public hospital. He charged that the act had turned the people of New Zealand into a race of pill-swallowers and of every 100 persons who visited a physician only 25 were able to benefit from his advice.

The system was blamed particularly for the encouragement it gave to materially minded physicians. Some collect fees from the state without even visiting patients. In rural areas, where mileage is paid for trips to patients a physician may collect full out-and-back mileage for three or four patients on a single trip.

One physician, checking on 300 children at a summer camp, collected $112, for two hours' work.

DESPITE THE VAST expansion of hospital facilities, the public hospitals are continually overcrowded. The cost of hospitalization, added to the cost of medicine and physicians' services has so raised the cost of health program that it now amounts to half the total of New Zealand's prewar public expenditures. So great is the cost of the health service, the Times correspondent said, that it now threatens the whole New Zealand social security system.

The government is now trying to arrange for a health plan with the medical association on a fixed fee basis, similar apparently to that operated by many Manitoba municipalities.

HOW LOANS ARE REPAYED

From the Ottawa Journal.

Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe told the House of Commons that the loans of hundreds of millions of dollars which Canada is making to Britain and Allied nations call for repayment.

It may be well that we understand clearly what repayment means.

We are sending Britain and other countries goods; they will repay us in goods, or in services.

Too many among us fail to grasp this. They are all for exports; they don't seem to realize that exports mean imports, that when we send goods to other countries we must permit them to pay us in goods. There is, in fact, no other way of payment.

That is why high tariffs are nonsense, their only effect being to make it hard for debtor countries to pay their debts. That is what happened in the case of the United States after the last war. Europe owed the United States billions, but the United States, while demanding that the debts be paid, raised tariffs so high that repayment was impossible.

We have considerable of the same confused thought in Canada; many who keep shouting about world trade, about the need for exports, are at the same time the loudest for tariffs.

It is high time that we realized we can't have our cake and eat it.

Is the snippy and indifferent clerk naturally that way, or is it a result of thinking herself necessary?

Indonesian references to "non-violence," similar to those which have accompanied India's sporadic outbursts in her long search for complete independence, serve to remind us that the present situation in Java is not some new postwar manifestation, but rather a continuation of a movement which has become indigenous to southeast Asia.

Throughout Burma, Malaya and the Indies, long before the war, there was a growing restlessness and sometimes openly hostile attitude toward the British, French and Dutch administrations of a rich western Pacific area.

Instead of establishing educational and health centres by means of which native populations might prepare themselves for self-government, the ruling powers permitted continuation right up to the Second Great War of a system reminiscent of the earliest days of imperial expansion.

These peoples are not likely to be satisfied with anything less than self-government. Even persuading them to accept the enlightened tutelage necessary before independence may prove extremely difficult in their present state of mind.

All of which is a long way of saying that the stories coming out of Java today cannot be read as applying to an isolated situation. We have the word of Gen.

Carlos P. Romulo, resident commissioner of the Philippines to the United States, writing in Collier's, that:

"Essentially the problem of the Pacific represents the race problem of the world. Ignore it, sidestep it, neglect it, and the next war will be a race war."

Chemistry

Better!

BETTER AUTOMOBILES
BETTER TEXTILES
BETTER HOMES AND FURNISHINGS

CONSIDER some of the improvements that have come to us through chemistry in recent years.

Our automobiles have run on tires that lasted longer because of rubber chemicals. They have been given new and longer-lasting beauty with better finishes, such as "Duco" and "Dulux". Gears have been case hardened by means of chemicals; and moulded plastic parts have been used for new, attractive interior trim.

Chemistry has given us nylon yarn, too; vastly better paints, varnishes and lacquers for our homes; and light, tough, transparent "Lucite". Chemical research has found a way to make textiles water repellent. The list goes on and on.

Most assuring of all, is the fact that our chemists are still at work seeking ways to make old products better and to discover new products that will contribute to the welfare and comfort of Canadians in the years to come. Chemistry never stands still.

By improving things... Chemistry brings Better Living

'Y' Worker Describes Work In Ceylon

Home on leave in Canada after six years with the Y.W.C.A. in Ceylon, Miss Estelle Amaron spoke on the "Y.W.C.A. in Action in a World at War," to the many guests attending the annual membership tea Tuesday afternoon in the local "Y."

Miss Amaron wears the khaki uniform of the British War Services, for whom she spent four months visiting Service Clubs in the Middle East, Italy and England, before returning home.

As organizing secretary for the Y.W.C.A. in Ceylon and as general secretary of the Colombo Association, Miss Amaron visited Shanghai, Hongkong, Manila, Siam and Singapore, before arriving in Ceylon. Illustrations of the world fellowship of the Y.W.C.A. in all of these places which were just on the very edge of war, were given by the speaker.

How the war affected "Y" work in Ceylon, with thousands of refugees pouring through the port of Colombo and later, the passage of troops, was described by Miss Amaron. The island was bombed first on Easter Sunday and when war tactics changed to the offensive, accommodation at the Y.W.C.A. was taxed to capacity. Eventually, experienced workers from the British war services took over to look after the needs of the thousands of British girls stationed in Ceylon. This service now extends through all Ceylon, India, Burma and Singapore.

The work to be done in moral and spiritual reconstruction as well as repairing physical destruction, was stressed by Miss Amaron. Staff, instruction and material resources will have to be shared by the Y.W.C.A. throughout the world, together with the vision and faith to rebuild, she concluded.

Miss Margaret Wightman, general secretary, welcomed the guests and Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, president of the board of directors, introduced the speaker and Miss Rae Abernethy.

Mrs. F. Pollard, Mrs. A. Carmichael, Mrs. J. Baxter and Mrs. P. E. George presided at the tea urns and members of the board of directors assisted in serving.

Eugenie Doherty Married Today

Eugenie Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doherty, 3235 Weald Road, was married this morning at 9 in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, to John Edmund Jones, son of Mrs. T. E. Jones, Fort Erie, Ont., and the late Mr. Jones. Father J. Buckley solemnized the service, and Mrs. C. Collins presided at the organ.

But what is an atom? What does it look like? Can you see or feel it? How was it discovered? Complete details and diagrams are now given in the Genuine Pocket Book Edition of "The Atomic Age Opens." On sale today at magazine dealers.

Genuine Pocket Book Editions are distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by Miss Mary Smith, frocked in pale pink tulle. Her large picture hat of cellophane was trimmed with deep purple, and she carried a flower fan of violets. LAC-Ray G. Spear supported the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Doherty was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. F. W. Nolte, grandmother of the bride. Dr. W. Spence proposed the bride's health.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Jones flew to Vancouver, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride's going-away costume of three-piece grey suit, matching topcoat lined with persian lamb, black accessories, was complemented by an orchid corsage bouquet.

The bride was given away by her elder son, Peter Forrest, and for the occasion she wore a feather original hat by Gainsborough in violet and grey tone. In compliment to her Deja gown of mist grey, Miss Joan Forrest was her mother's only attendant, and wore an Eau de nil crepe frock, mauve and violet flowered hat, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and violets. David Angus was best man.

For going away, the bride wore a grey kid fur coat and black accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pale pink carnations, violets and mauve heather.

Children's Aid Cares for 162

One hundred and sixty-two children are under the supervision of the Children's Aid Society now in foster homes. It was announced at the monthly meeting of the board of directors. Twelve children were admitted to care and 10 were discharged during the month. Mrs. R. H. McInnes presided.

The board appointed Miss M. Gould, a social worker, to the staff, and Miss A. Corcoran to the stenographic staff. Miss D. Trenholm, formerly office secretary, has been given leave of absence to study social work at the University of British Columbia, and Miss M. Drew has been appointed to succeed her.

Seven new cases of illegitimacy were referred for help during the month. Eleven cases of neglect of children were reported. The society was represented at the hearings of 11 children charged in juvenile court. Five of the children were repeaters. In addition to six new adoption applications being received, 20 incidental enquiries were given attention.

The society has continued to give temporary care to children when the mothers have become ill and gone to hospital. Because the families are strangers here, often neighbors cannot help, and there is no one but the society to care for the children. The parents pay what they can and the Community Chest makes up the difference.

The board expressed regret the budget of the society for 1946 had of necessity been reduced by the board of the Community Chest, although additional staff was needed.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: My first cousin and I are very much in love with each other and but for our relationship would have married. However, we both want children and are afraid that if we married one or more of them might be abnormal. What is the scientific verdict on cousins marrying?

CHRIS.

Answer: The accepted opinion among scientists now is that, provided cousins are mentally and physically sound, there is no more danger of their having abnormal children than there is of strangers having them if they marry. The blood tie has nothing to do with it except that it gives them a double strain of the same inheritance. Hence, if cousins who are strong and vigorous marry, their children would be almost sure to be extra strong and healthy. But if cousins who were sickly and weak marry, their children would most likely be frail and delicate. And the same thing would hold true of mental qualities.

Go to some up-to-date doctor, who is not guided by old wives' tales, and talk the matter over with him.

Tells Kiwanis Club Of Air Experiences

Caught in the glare of German searchlights, only six of 16 French saboteurs dropped about 35 miles south of Paris one night reached the ground safely, although they jumped from only 5,500 feet FO. Geoffrey Joyce told members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at their luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel.

The saboteurs, trained in England, each carried a belt of detonators and a 150-pound sack of explosives, sabotage equipment and food.

Introduced by Fred McGregor, FO. Joyce told of his experiences during 28 operational trips over enemy territory as a rear-gunner, dropping supplies to the Marquis in France and towing gliders on and after D-Day.

As a member of the hush-hush 38 Group, FO. Joyce was on the first operation over France in 1942 in which supplies were dropped to the French resistance movement. The Stirling bomber in which he flew carried 24 containers, each loaded with 300 pounds of Sten guns, detonators, medical supplies and food, he said.

As the aircraft flew over France at a height of 500 feet, scores of patriots flashed V for Victory to the airmen. Once or twice American jeeps had been dropped from his plane, he said, but he was not sure whether they had ever run again.

His crew dropped paratroops to help defend a bridge just south of the Cherbourg peninsula in support of glider troops who had landed on the bridge, in advance of the Normandy invasion forces. On D-Day, his aircraft towed a glider in a stream of bombers and gliders, two abreast and 150 miles long, which flowed across the Channel.

The D-Day glider operation was very successful, he said. The gliders dived at an angle of 65 degrees after release, leveling out a few feet above the ground, and in this manner avoided anti-aircraft fire.

AT ARNHEIM

FO. Joyce described how on Sept. 17, 1944, members of the 6th Airborne Division had been dropped at Arnheim in expectation that the 2nd Army would reach there the following day.

"But at 5 o'clock on Sept. 18 Montgomery was still 50 miles away," FO. Joyce said. "The airborne troops normally carried supplies for only two days, and they wanted food and supplies. We went over with 24 containers, and were hit with terrible flak for 70 miles from the Albert Canal into the target. From my turret I saw 10 of our boys crashing or exploding after being hit."

More supplies were flown in on the fourth day, FO. Joyce said, but finally Montgomery called the 6th Airborne Division back. The division had held up the main force of the Germans while Montgomery crossed the canals in Holland, FO. Joyce said.

The airmen were thanked by Sam Clark, Frank Paulding, president of the Kiwanis, was chairman.

When will I get
NEW TIRES?

-and WILL THEY STAND UP?

A definite "yes" is Firestone's answer to the second question. Wilbur Shaw, the famous race driver, proved it when he drove Firestone tires 500 miles at an average speed of 100.34 miles per hour over the Indianapolis Speedway. Not a blowout or skid occurred in this gruelling test—equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving—made under supervision of the American Automobile Association in which Firestone tires taken from STOCK were used.

WHEN you can buy new tires depends largely on UNRAA demands and rationing authorities. But you can be sure that once Firestone is given the go-ahead signal our full production will be devoted to your needs. In the meantime, your nearby Firestone Dealer will gladly do everything he can to help you make your tires last. See him today.

Police Station Alteration Urged

The police commission will ask the city council to authorize a survey of the police station by the building inspector with a view to possible alteration or extension of the building. It was decided Tuesday at a meeting of the commission.

City Prosecutor Claude Harrison called attention of the commission to poor courtroom conditions in the police station, stating in a letter that it was often difficult to hear in police court and recommending that improvements should be made soon in view of the employment situation.

Commissioner B. J. Gadsden agreed with Mr. Harrison's statement, adding that the light was bad in the courtroom. Police Chief J. A. McLellan said that more office space was needed. The police chief was given authority to make arrangements for a first aid course for police force members during the winter and was asked to consider, with Det. Inspector John Rogers, the possibility of conducting a revolver marksmanship competition. Resignation of Miss Lillian Saddington as secretary to the police chief, effective Oct. 31, was accepted, Mayor P. E. George voicing the commission's appreciation of her conscientious work.

The commission decided to recommend to the city council that tenders be sought for a 1,000-gallon oil tank to hold fuel for an oil burner to be installed as soon as possible in the police station.

Police Sgt. Peris Atkinson, back on the city force after five years of naval service, was introduced to the commission by the police chief.

WAKE UP
Bright and Smiling!

Try this at bedtime tonight

Do you sleep soundly and wake up refreshed, clear-eyed and buoyant, ready for the day's work? Or are your nights restless and disturbed, your mornings spoiled by fatigue and exhaustion?

If you've been waking tired and listless, why not do as thousands today are doing—simply drink a cup of Ovaltine warm at bedtime. For Ovaltine does three things to bring vigorous morning freshness.

(1) Taken warm at bedtime, it relieves that feeling of nervous tension—helps the body to relax for sleep without drugs. (2) Processed for easy digestion, it supplies light nourishment to prevent restless tossing and turning due to digestive unrest. (3) It supplies a variety and wealth of important food elements to rebuild body and nerve cells, replenish vitality to meet the morning.

Ovaltine furnishes not only essential vitamins, but also a combination of minerals, high-quality proteins and quick energy food elements which authorities agree are necessary for health and top vitality.

So if you sleep poorly—waken tired and listless—why not turn to Ovaltine as an aid to refreshing sleep and clear-eyed, radiant morning freshness. See if you don't begin to wake up each morning brighter, and more buoyant—ready to greet the day with a smile.

DEAR

VICTORIA'S Memorial Arena won't be built this year, according to a wire to Mayor Percy George from R. W. Mayhew, M.P. War-time regulations make it impossible to issue a license for an arena at the present time. An Ottawa official said: "There is not a chance in the world for a permit for some months at least."

WITH the rest of Canada getting ready for winter Victoria has been basking in sunshine. There have been 19 rainless days between Sept. 26 and Oct. 14. Golfers, tennis players and bowlers have been enjoying games the same as they did in summer.

FIRST of the four China coastal vessels under construction at V.M.D. will be launched this month. H. S. Hammill said all four would be completed about February. He added there were a lot of possibilities regarding further work at the yards but nothing concrete.

DONALDSON LINE'S hospital ship Letitia is expected to arrive at Esquimalt early in November with repatriates from Jap prisoner-of-war camps. Francis Grattan, founder of the Victoria Little Symphony Orchestra died at the age of 73. Walter Akerman, 74, one of the best known of the B.C. Electric's streetcar operators in Victoria, has retired. He came here in 1911. Now that active warfare is over amateur radio operators are hoping that permission will soon be granted for their return to the air.

LATEST of the big ships to bring repatriated prisoners of war from the Orient, was the Royal Navy's biggest aircraft carrier, H.M.S. Implacable, which docked at Vancouver last week. She carried 2,127 veterans of Singapore, Hongkong, Sumatra and survivors of the sinking of the Repulse. Only four Canadians were aboard, the rest being members of the British army and navy, who continued their journey by train as soon as the Implacable docked.

AT ESQUIMALT last week the American transport General Hughes docked with 1,300 British and 159 Canadians from the Orient. Her arrival marked the harbor's greatest spectacle with the big ship steaming in to the cheers of a big crowd on Naden's jetty, and the music of the navy band. More than 1,000 Americans aboard watched as the Canadians and British streamed ashore bound for Gordon Head and Work Point camps to receive medical check-up, new uniforms and pay before continuing their journey.

OTHER transports docking at Esquimalt recently include the General Langfitt and the Gospar. Repatriates have also been arriving in the city by way of Seattle, after docking at San Francisco.

VICTORIANS back from Jap camps include Sgmn. Howard Naylor, Cpl. Lionel Speller, Sgt. C. O. Woodhead, Pte. Edward Toews, Pte. Bob Acton, Sgmn. Arthur Squires, Sgt. Anthony Grimston.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT has appropriated $100,000 to acquire properties adjacent to the present post-office site. Owners of properties adjacent to the site of the proposed new post office at Yates and Government Streets have been approached. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., says the $100,000 will be used to extend the post-office facilities and the sum will cover the cost of the acquisition of properties near the present site.

NANCY HODGES, Coalition candidate for Victoria in the provincial election, broke her wrist when she fell down the steps at Sir James Douglas School gymnasium. She had just addressed a meeting.

TWENTY firemen under Chief Joseph Raymond put out a spectacular fire at the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd., after exploding asphalt fumes had thrown flames 60 feet into the air. Arthur Cowden won the Medal of Good Citizenship presented by the Knights of Columbus. Cmdr. Arthur Pressey, O.B.E., Duncan, will be the navy's commanding officer at Vancouver after Rear-Admiral V. G. Brodeur, C.B.E., comes to Esquimalt at the end of the month.

HOME ON LEAVE are Spr. C. Leves, Staff Sgt. Tommy Barton, ex-prisoner of the Japs; Flt.-Lt. William Dobson, Sgmn. W. Blackley, Ensign Fred Johnstone, David R. Monk, Sgt. Leonard Wagstaff and Cmdr. Ted Simmons.

ARTHUR DENNY, prominent businessman, died suddenly at his summer home at Brentwood. Cap Thorsen, former Times reporter, is back in Victoria awaiting discharge from the army. Reports from Halifax tell how a Victoria sailor Ldg. Cook Jim Waller, R.C.N., routed a hold-up man in a north-end confectionery store. The U.S. navy's 10,000-ton refrigerator ship Athanasia inbound to Seattle from Alaska crashed onto jagged rocks at Bajo Point, near Nootka Sound in a dense fog. It is expected that the ship will be refloated. The vessel may be saved if the sea remains calm. Following announcement of reduction in income tax employers will be authorized shortly to reduce deduction from salaries and wages by 15 per cent.

DR. AND MRS. S. G. CLEMENCE celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. On his return to Victoria this week Brig. F. N. Cabell, D.S.O., and Bar, said that Canadian Army headquarters overseas is doing everything possible to bring veterans home soon. Salesmen are getting ready to open the 9th Victory Loan. Victoria's quota is $3,400,000. Capt. Norman Rant, manager of Rockhome Gardens, is dead.

UNTIL Next week.

Extend Time For American Citizens

U.S. Consul's office here announces that on Oct. 11 the President of the United States signed an act amending Section 409 of the Nationality Act of 1940, postponing the operations of Sections 404 and 407 of the Act until Oct. 14, 1946. As a result of the amendment, American citizens residing in Canada who would have lost their right to American citizenship by continued residence abroad after Oct. 14, 1945, are now permitted under the amendment to remain outside the United States until Oct. 14, 1946.

Discuss Amendment Of Traffic By-law

Amendment to the traffic by-law will be discussed by the public works committee tomorrow, Ald. Ed Williams, chairman of the committee, said today.

The by-law amendment would affect traffic in the downtown areas by placing three traffic lanes, clearly marked by aluminum disks pointing the directions, and concern 12 corners in the business section of town.

The dummy policeman in the centre of each intersection will be left in place, but with the three lanes of traffic it would no longer be necessary to go round the dummy policeman on a left-hand turn, Ald. Williams explained, but cars could cut across it.

This is the system used in all large cities and will serve to speed up traffic and prevent congestion in the downtown areas, he said. The three lanes would be for left-hand turns, for right-hand turns, and the middle one for through traffic.

Corners which will be affected if the new by-law is passed are Yates and Blanshard, Yates and Douglas, Yates and Broad, Yates and Government, Douglas and Pandora, Douglas and Johnson, Douglas and View, Douglas and Fort, Fort and Government, Fort and Blanshard, View and Blanshard and Johnson and Government.

If the committee approves the idea it will be tried first at Yates and Blanshard Streets, Ald. Williams said, to see how it will work out.

By PETE SALLAWAY

CHATTING to Dan Doswell, former coach and member of Victoria's Crimson Tide, in town several weeks ago, he told me to look for another great Varsity English rugby squad this season. From all appearances Dan knew what he was talking about, as the Thunderbirds are off to a flying start with two straight victories, smothering U.B.C. under a 25-0 score last Saturday. Doswell, who has become one of the smartest rugby coaches to show in these parts in a long time, figured he had another championship outfit in the making this season. Last year Varsity took the McKee Cup back to Vancouver after it had rested in Victoria for seven successive years. The 1944-45 edition was a real clever aggregation and, if Dan can come up with a club every bit as good, the students are going to be plenty tough to get over in both the British Columbia championship final and the cup playoffs.

VICTORIA racing followers are at a loss to figure just how Dave Diamond, Vancouver owner, was able to pull down $12,700 for his four-year-old Goldstreak II. This week Diamond announced some Hollywood money had laid out that handsome sum for the son of Papworth out of Goldstreak II. It is one of the richest sums ever paid for a Canadian-bred. Campaigning at Hollywood, the 3-c. thoroughbred has started four times, being second twice and third on the other two occasions, all in allowance races. In his first out he was nipped in a picture and in his last took third in a photo to determine the first three. Diamond purchased Goldstreak II as a yearling from Hon. E. W. Hamber for $500. He showed his best last year. Early this year he was a distinct disappointment, but got back to something like his old form late in the summer. But he never showed enough run to warrant a purchase tag of 12 grand. Of course, good horses are still plenty scarce, which may have been a big factor in Diamond realizing such a handsome profit.

BACK IN HIS HOME TOWN to spend his annual vacation, Jim Kierney, sports writer for the Vancouver Sun, tells me Paul Thompson looks to have a smart hockey team line up for Vancouver's entry in the Coast League. The former Chicago Black Hawks manager has a lot of likely-looking players working out and should have a contender, providing he can hold the boys, Kierney opines. "However, I'll wager that Frank Dotton comes up with the best club in the circuit at Seattle," Kierney continued. "He has really established himself in that town." Vancouver will have plenty of hockey this winter with five games a week, three senior and two junior.

WITH ONE CAMPAIGN just passed, the baseballers are already talking about plans for the next season. Already I hear about a semi-pro club to work in with similar outfits in Bellingham and Vancouver for games here when the local Western International League team is on the road. Have also heard the Canadian Legion mentioned as the backers of a ball team here next season. Whether or not the senior league will continue to operate is unknown at this time. All in all, it looks like a busy summer for baseball here come another summer.

Six Nominated for Hockey Hall of Fame

KINGSTON (CP)—Six "builders of hockey"—men associated in an official capacity with development of the ice sport in Canada—were honored today with announcement of their selection for membership in the international hockey hall of fame founded here last year.

A special committee authorized by the hall's board of governors chose these six men as outstanding in laying the foundation for hockey's growth: John Ross Robertson, Francis Nelson and W. A. (Billy) Hewitt of Toronto; William Northey and Frank Calder of Montreal; and Claude C. Robinson of Winnipeg.

Of the six, Hewitt, Northey and Robinson still are living. The announcement said the board of governors will consider "at a later date" selection for membership of former great players now retired from active competition.

Here is a brief review of the contributions made by the men whose selection was announced today:

Robertson: Philanthropist and newspaper publisher (The Toronto Evening Telegram). President of the Ontario Hockey Association from 1899 to 1905 and first life member of the O.H.A. Donated O.H.A. senior, intermediate and junior trophies.

Nelson: Toronto sports editor

(The Globe) and O.H.A. vice-president from 1902 to 1905. Described as "especially helpful" in an executive capacity in early development of O.H.A.

Hewitt: Connected officially with hockey for than 45 years. Often termed hockey's encyclopedia. Secretary of O.H.A. and honorary secretary-treasurer of Canadian Amateur Hockey Association from 1915 to 1919. Dominion registrar and treasurer of O.H.A. from 1922 to 1945.

Northey: Termed one of "most effective" officials hockey has known." Prevailed upon Sir Montagu Allan in 1908 to offer Allan Cup for Canadian senior competition.

Calder: President of the National Hockey League from its formation in 1917 to his death in the spring of 1943.

Robinson: Helped organize C.A.H.A. in 1914, became first secretary of association and was its first life member.

The board of governors which authorized the selections comprises Lester Patrick, New York Rangers; Mervyn Dutton, N.H.L. president; Art Ross, Boston Bruins; Frank Sargent, Port Arthur; W. A. Hewitt; Basil C. Mearns, Montreal; J. P. Fitzgerald, Toronto; and A. E. H. Coo, Winnipeg.

Slim Choice For Major Ball Clubs At Draft Session

CHICAGO (AP)—All the major league baseball teams probably will be represented but from this distance it looks like slim pickings when they hold their annual player-draft meeting here Nov. 1.

Not that there'll be any scarcity of draftable players. About 400 names are expected to be on the eligibility list now being prepared by Leslie O'Connor, baseball commissioner. A. B. (Happy) Chandler's assistant. But quality is something else. There wasn't much left in baseball's minor leagues worth the $7,500 price tag for a class AA draftee when the 1945 season ended. Just about every minor leaguer that showed any promise the past season was snatched by a parent team, or for cash, and found himself on a major league diamond.

Furthermore, just about every big league team still is worried about what to do with players now on their rosters when their chancellors in service return. All of who with a little conditioning, could step right into their former jobs and probably help their teams more than the men who played the positions the past season.

That's what the big-leaguers face in the draft—a paucity of good material and the probability they'll be overburdened with returning servicemen next spring.

Red Cross Golf Tourney Sunday

All members of Greater Victoria golf clubs are invited to participate in the Colwood Club's Red Cross tournament Sunday. Entrance fees will be turned over to the Red Cross Society.

The competition will be 18 holes medal with full handicap allowance.

Players will arrange own starting times and partners. The Red Cross Society has donated a prize to go to the player turning in the lowest net score.

First tee will be closed between 1 and 1:30 and at 1:15 a feature four-ball match will be held. This will see Gordon Verley, city champion, and Walter Newcombe, runner-up, meeting Brian Hunnings, Colwood champion, and Harold Lineham last year's winner of the city title.

Organize Six-Man Canadian Football

The Canadian Six-Man Football League will hold a special meeting at the Y.M.C.A. this evening commencing at 8 with the object of forming a local league. The proposed league will be limited to players under 18 years of age and under 145 pounds in weight. St. Louis College, Goblins, J.B. A.A. and Britannia Branch have already entered teams in the new circuit and other entries will be welcomed. Anyone interested in playing or entering a club is invited to attend the meeting.

Bucko McDonald Will Play Hockey

OTTAWA (CP)—Bucko McDonald, who, away from the athletic world is Wilfred Kennedy McDonald, Liberal member of the Commons for Parry Sound, said Tuesday he will definitely play for Hull Volants of the Quebec Senior Hockey League this season.

McDonald, 34-year-old former National Hockey League defenseman with New York Rangers, Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings, said he would "grind a few pounds off skating in the next two weeks."

"The only obstacle right now is the fact that I have no intention of letting hockey or anything else interfere with my duties at the House," he said.

U.S. Amateur-Open Golf Tourneys Set

NEW YORK (AP)—Amateur golfers will determine their 1946 champion over one of the two Baltusrol courses, Springfield, N.J., in September and the open title will be decided over the Canterbury layout at Cleveland in June, the U.S. Golf Association announced Tuesday.

At the same time the golf leaders said the public links crown would be put up for decision at the Wellshire club in Denver, July 22 to 27, and that if Great Britain sent over a Walker Cup team the matches would be played at Southampton, Long Island, Aug. 30 and 31.

No dates nor site was set for the women's national tourney. The executive committee of the U.S.G.A., which recently approved the return of tourney after a four-year hiatus because of the war, met last Wednesday but would not reveal the locations of the meets until the host clubs had been notified by mail.

The amateur club swingers will meet at Baltusrol, site of the 1936 open, from Sept. 9 to 14 in their search for a successor to Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., who won the 1941 crown.

Major Hockey Round-up

Toronto Looks Strong

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—Western Canada has almost a monopoly of players at the training camp of Toronto Maple Leafs.

Of 35 hockey stalwarts trying out for the National League team 14 came from the west—four as amateurs. Amateur ranks, however, were reduced by one Tuesday with signing of Jimmy Thompson of Winnipeg to a professional contract.

There was no immediate indication as to whether Leafs would keep Thompson, who starred on defence for Toronto St. Michael's College in junior ranks last season, or ship him to the minors for more seasoning. Other amateurs are Jack Irving, Winnipeg; Carth Boesch, from Saskatchewan, and Johnny McCormack of Edmonton, and it is likely at least two will be signed and farmed out for experience.

Other Winnipeggers with Leafs are Wally Stanowski and Gordie Bell, and both have signed their season contracts. The Saskatchewan contingent is made up of the veterans, Nick and Don Metz, and Mel Hill. Hill has been burning up the ice while the Metz brothers remain the rugged checkers that have featured their play in the past.

FOUR CALGARIANS

Lorne Carr, Sweeney Schriener, goalie Frank McCool and Tommy Anderson represented Calgary. All but Anderson were with Leafs last season.

Carr, latest player to report, took to the ice Tuesday for the first time. Anderson, the so-called "cowboy" who once played defence for the defunct Brooklyn Americans, has been slowed by a knee injury, but is slowly rounding into the form that won him the Hart trophy before he joined the Canadian army.

Two speedsters from Fort William, Ont., have shown up well in drill. They are Gaye Stewart, fresh from a spell with the Royal Canadian Navy, and Gus Bodnar. Stewart and Bodnar both have had previous service with Leafs, and both won the Calder trophy in their N.H.L. seasonal debut.

RANGERS SIGN 10

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lester Patrick and Frank Boucher are right in the thick of the paper work involved with the business of getting New York Rangers in shape for the forthcoming National Hockey League season.

Patrick announced Tuesday that Phil Watson, starry center who hails from Montreal, has signed a one-year contract, and said that nine more players have come to terms with the club.

Ott Heller, 35-year-old veteran defenceman from Kitchener, Ont., is among those who have agreed to Ranger offers, and he'll line up for his 16th year of pro hockey this season.

Goalie Chuck Raynor, Alex Shibicky, Neil Colville, Hank Goldup, Brian Hextall, Ab. Demarco, Alan Kuntz and Bill Moe are the others.

Pte. MacColville, who returned from overseas a few days ago, is expected to pass through here on his way home to Edmonton.

8.00—St. Louis College vs. Chinese Students, intermediate B boys.

British Columbia Basketball Association's annual session will be held at the Vancouver Y.M.C.A., Saturday, Oct. 27.

J.B.A.A. Meeting Set for Friday

Officers for the next 12 months will be elected at a meeting of the J.B.A.A. to be held Friday night at 8 at 635 Fort Street. All former members of the Bays are invited to attend. The Bays are already getting back into the sports field having entered the senior rugby league and made plans to sponsor a junior Canadian football squad and an intermediate boys' basketball club.

ton and discharge from the Canadian army. He may be back with the New Yorkers before long, but his return would not alter manager Patrick's projected plans for making a rearguard out of brother Neil.

In addition to coaching duties during practice, Boucher's work deals with the task of picking his forward and defence combinations for exhibition games with Chicago Black Hawks tomorrow and Saturday.

Dominoes-K.V.'s Set Senior Cage Squads

Young blood with lots of speed and stamina will form the lineup K.V.'s will pit against the several times Canadian champion Dominoes in the impending senior A basketball campaign, according to club manager Bert Simpson today. These two teams are the sole entries in the major loop this season.

Manager Dave Nicol, on the other hand, stated that many stars of years gone by who helped carry the Dominoes and Blue Ribbons through to national titles, will be wearing Dominoes colors this season. Owing to the drain made by the services Dominoes were forced to disband following their victorious cross-Canada trek that netted them the Dominion championship in Montreal in 1942.

It was learned from inquiries in both camps that neither team at this date can put a definite "ours" on several players, but it appears that both clubs are shooting for the services of George Straith, a husky youngster with speed.

Active in other sports as well, K.V.'s club has done wonderful work in promoting basketball in this city. During the six years the club has been active on the cage front they have started a great many youngsters in the midjet and junior classes, and prepared them for the other leagues up the line. Veterans of basketball in Victoria in looking over the K.V. lineup consider this club plenty promising. K.V.'s have a lot of well-wishers in this bid for a league honors.

Those familiar with the faces in the minor leagues will recognize the following who are on the K.V.'s senior A lineup: Bob McKay, Harry Wood, Ralph Anderson, Bob Long, Jimmy Ransom, Ronny Castner, Ian Brown, Angus Stewart, Austin Webster (former Domino), Harold Yardley, "Whitey" Turner. It is hoped to get Roy McKay in K.V. uniform as well, Simpson said.

Forming the coaching staff of the K.V.'s are Harold Turner and Pete Campbell.

Such top-ranking basketball performers as Chuck Chapman, Porky Andrew, Hank Rowe, Bushy Jackson, Norman Baker and Vic Dale are working out for the Dominoes now.

Art Chapman is lost back in town yet, but it is the hope of Nicol that he will be back to join the club before long. Doug Peden, who is still at Mill Bay just now, is another one of the Dominoes' hopes. Hal York, formerly of the Varsity Thunderbirds, will be wearing Domino uniform, as will Ian "Spud" McKeachie, formerly of the Pat Bay Flyers. Others who will be turning out for the several times Canadian champs are Don Woodhouse and Allan Wright, both youngsters who went to Montreal with the Dominoes in '42 to lift the championship.

This will be the second start of the K.V.'s in senior A ball. They entered the A league when the war broke out, but the taking away of so many players by the services caused them to drop out.

Appoint Committee Promoted
For Navy Week

Two members of a three-man central co-ordinating committee have been appointed to arrange plans for Navy Week, Nov. 18 to 25, sponsored here by the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada.

They are Brig. L. W. Miller and Lt.-Col. Thomas More, Prince Robert House. Magistrate H. C. Hall is chairman of the Victoria branch of the league. There is still one committee member to appoint.

Lt.-Col. Moore said plans were under consideration, but had not yet taken definite shape. He expected they would include public tours over various naval vessels in dock, at homes at Sea Cadet headquarters, and at Prince Robert House, a possible visit to H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, and lectures in schools and service clubs.

A lighthouse campaign would be co-ordinated with Navy Week, he said.

He will return to this city with the headquarters of the R.C.N. on the Pacific, Nov. 1. His family resides here.

The manning commander supervises the records and appointments of all R.C.N. officers on the west coast, and is handling the demobilizing of naval personnel.

After service with the Royal Navy in the first World War, he retired, and moved to Okanagan Lake. He was called up for active service in December, 1939, and served at Esquimalt, Comox and Prince Rupert before going to Vancouver.

Cmdr. Harrison's home is at 3913 Cumberland Road. He and Mrs. Harrison have four children: Peter, an army lieutenant at Nanaimo, and Deborah, Robin and Elizabeth in Victoria.

On the manning commander's staff are: Lieut. J. H. Stevenson, Vancouver; Lieut. J. D. Garrard, Victoria; Lieut. Betty Rasmussen, WRCNS, Esquimalt; Sub-Lt. R. W. Gross, Vancouver; Sub-Lt. Elizabeth Taylor, WRCNS, Guelph, Ont.; Sub-Lt. Dorothy E. Reid, WRCNS, Nanaimo, Ont., and Wrens Marion Brown, Margarita Mackenzie and Eleanor Rutter.

Historical Society
Hears C.P.R. History

A history of the Canadian Pacific Railway was given members of the Victoria Section, British Columbia Historical Association by Arthur P. Dawe.

"Desire of the Hudson's Bay Company to protect its beaver-trapping country in the region of Yellowhead Pass was one reason why the Canadian Pacific Railway chose the steeper and costlier Kicking Horse route," Mr. Dawe said in his talk on "Steel of Confederation."

He said Donald Smith, afterwards Lord Strathcona, headed a syndicate which acquired control of both the Hudson's Bay Company and the C.P.R. Taking the harder route in order to avoid the fur country created many of Canada's railway problems, he said.

Plan, build, prosper. Invest with the C.C.F. Send Esquimalt donations to W. Bomford, Shawngan Lake, or Thos. C. Jones, 481 Fraser St., Esquimalt.

CHEAP LUMBER

Call lumber at less than the price of wood. This lumber cannot be sold commercially at the sawmill because of being offsize, too much bark, splits, checks or pitch streaks, but hundreds of loads are being sold, and pieces picked out to repair barns, sidewalks, fences, build chicken runs, rabbit runs, bridges and filler in buildings, and garden stakes. Even if all this lumber were cut into wood it would be cheap inside wood and a load will make about 1 1/2 cords. Especially handy for people who live outside of town and find it hard to get good wood. This lumber is in 1, 2, 3 and 4-inch boards and planks, and timbers up to 20 feet long.

PRICE, PER BIG TRUCK LOAD $4.50

dangerous to the public and was fined $25.
 Pte. Fisher testified he had been watching another car approach west along Esquimalt Road as he drove west on the Johnson Street Extension, and had not seen the streetcar coming east on Esquimalt Road until just before the collision. Both streetcar and station wagon were traveling slowly before they collided head-on, witnesses said.

Commerce Chamber Meeting Discusses Brief On Free Port

Transportation committee of the Victoria Chamber met Wednesday afternoon to discuss a brief listing legal and technical points on establishment of a free port in Victoria.

The brief warns that when a free port is established at any customs port of entry, it does not imply the entire port is treated as a free port, but only the zone set aside as a free port area.

A grant shall be issued to only a "public authority," which means a province or municipality or a lawfully authorized public or private agent, the brief noted, and outlined details regarding physical qualification of the proposed zone which should be stated in the application.

In addition, the application should show what facilities exist, what facilities it is proposed to provide, and preliminary plans and estimates of cost.

The proposed location of the zone should be suitable for the conduct of those operations of foreign commerce with which the port is concerned, and a refusal of a grant is not a bar to a new application.

The brief outlines the operation of the zone and its use as a free port, and lists facilities the grantee must provide and maintain in connection with the zone. Adequate wharves, warehouses and transportation must be provided among other things, and it is also required adequate enclosures to segregate the zone be provided.

Twenty-nine shipping lines which used Victoria as a port prior to the war are listed and the brief also mentions 13 agencies handling tramp steamers for lumber and general cargoes.

HARBOR DUES COMPARED
 Comparison of charges for vessels entering the port of Victoria and those for ships entering the port of Vancouver show harbor dues here to be one and a half cent per registered ton, paid twice in a calendar year, compared with Vancouver's harbor dues of three cents per registered ton paid five times a year.

Cargo rates for Victoria are nil, while cargo rates for ships entering Vancouver are based according to commodity which amounts, according to the brief, to a tremendous charge on shipping during the year. Vessels proceeding to Vancouver have to pay a charge for extra pilotage, the brief added.

The B.C. Telephone Co. has written the City Council promising "careful consideration" of the resolutions asking for a reconsideration of Victoria telephone rates, and also asking that an accounting office be set up here.

Mrs. E. Glancy, 776 Hillside Avenue, has informed the City Council she intends to make a claim for $1,000 for injuries sustained Sept. 10 when she tripped and fell over a raised cement sidewalk on Hillside Avenue.

The Public Utilities Commission has informed the City Council the question of giving one or more months of free electricity in Victoria is still under consideration, and it is expected a public announcement will be made shortly.

Oak Bay police investigating the entering of the home of Capt. J. A. Hobday, 540 Newport Avenue, reported Tuesday night two automatic pistols, a German P-38 and a 7.65 Mauser had been stolen. The house was entered during Capt. Hobday's absence in Vancouver.

A large crowd gathered at Government and Courtney Streets to watch an electric arc on a metal pole resulting from a short circuit. The arc, from two to four feet long, continued for about 10 minutes until the power was switched off. Firemen attended to keep the short circuit from doing other damage.

Seasonal Shortage, Shipment to Britain Cause Egg Lack Here

Seasonal low production, coupled with a 25 per cent cut in quantity of eggs for the domestic market are responsible for the present egg shortage, according to a Yates Street wholesaler.

"This is the regular time for eggs to be short, in October and November, but added to that shortage is the fact that a shipment is slated for Britain the end of this month. To make up the shipment for Britain, all dealers at Vancouver have put aside 25 per cent of their receipt of eggs," he explained.

"The prairies are also taking a number of B.C. eggs, but by the end of November eggs should be plentiful."

Egg production increases after the seasonal shortage used to occur about Jan. 1, but last year it began Dec. 10, according to the wholesaler, who added, production increase this year might come still earlier.

Prices are still below the ceiling. There is a great surplus of eggs in Canada and it is only during October and November that the price nears the ceiling.

Deanery Conference Hears of Plans For 4 New Churches

Plans are now being laid for the erection of four churches which are urgently needed, the annual Victoria Deanery Conference learned at its meeting in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, under chairmanship of Rev. Frederic Pike, rural dean of Victoria.

Reports were received from 23 parishes and missions, telling of forward movement in the deanery and showing parishes were taking a keen interest in Sunday school work. Highlighting the conference was a report on social service work done by the women of Victoria at Gordon Head Camp. Col. L. Cornish told of the efforts made on behalf of returned men at the camp in fitting the sick and wounded for civilian life.

Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunns brought a message from the Bishop of the Diocese and Rev. O. L. Jull spoke of his work as hospital chaplain. Maj. H. B. Hunter, representing the Boy Scout Association, made a plea for scoutmasters and V. Sherman urged greater support of the diocesan magazine, The Challenge. Canon Michael Coleman spoke of the mission work and its work among isolated settlers and told the conference of the gift of a diocesan camp site which would fill "a long felt want."

Rural Dean Pike and Capt. C. F. Gibson were elected to represent the deanery on the executive committee of the diocese.

Backs Water Scheme For Saanich Farms

Norman Whittaker, K.C., Coalition candidate in Saanich, told an election rally Tuesday night at Brentwood Women's Institute Hall, he would renew his efforts to secure a water scheme for Saanich.

Mr. Whittaker said it was his intention to ask the municipalities to unite in asking the provincial government to appoint engineers to investigate the report on the best means of carrying out such a project.

Stressing the value of agricultural production in B.C., he said that at the last session of the Legislature the Farmers' Land Clearing Assistance Act had been passed providing for land clearing machinery to be hired by the farmers under contract, the terms of which were to be set by order-in-council.

It was expected that such equipment would be available soon, he said, adding that the government had allocated $500,000 to buy machinery.

Great Negro Tenor Sings Friday Night

Emanuel Mansfield, America's foremost negro tenor, will appear at Victoria High School Friday evening, Mr. Mansfield is known as the greatest interpreter of Negro spirituals. Possessing a captivating personality, Mr. Mansfield sings with great expression.

Once a member of a negro quartette, which appeared in Victoria several years ago, he was always anxious to be on his own. From the depths of despair, as a Virginia farm boy to the height of joy that he has now attained as a famous singer, is his own story of superb effort and unflinching devotion to an ideal.

Mr. Mansfield took post graduate voice work in Boston.

Mr. Mansfield's program will include: "Where'er You Walk," "L'Amour de Moi," "Little Mother of Mine," "Swing Low," "Little David Play on Your Harp" and "None But the Lonely Heart."

Mr. Mansfield appears under the auspices of the Victoria High School Association. The concert will begin at 8.

Tuna Catch Triples Over Last Year

The Canadian tuna fish catch to the end of last August was 1,220,000 pounds, compared with 464,000 for the entire 1944 season, according to Maj. J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of Department of Fisheries.

Maj. Motherwell attributed the increased catch to better-equipped fishing boats and more fishermen out for tuna this season. More than 100 boats left Victoria and Vancouver for the tuna grounds off Washington and Oregon coasts this season.

Tuna was sold for $429 per ton this year.

Here's your magic wand for making milk

Says Elsie: "It doesn't matter where you live—you can still have milk! Just add KLIM Powdered Milk to water, whisk with an egg-beater and presto! You have exactly the amount you need of nourishing milk for every purpose where milk is required."

All the cream left in!

KLIM is pasteurized whole milk in handy powder form. Only the natural moisture has been removed. All the cream and all of the nutritive values of fresh pasteurized milk are retained.

Milk made from KLIM keeps as well as fresh fluid milk. But by making only as much as you need each time, you can always have a fresh supply.

And KLIM Whole Milk Powder itself stays fresh long after the vacuum-sealed container is opened. It's always handy.

The DOCTOR Says:

SPECIAL SERUM MODIFIES MEASLES' SEVERITY

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

If you have never had measles, your turn is coming, for everyone gets measles sooner or later. If you think you have never had measles, but you have had it without realizing it, you are safe, for one attack usually instills protection for life.

But there is good news on the measles front. A simple method of making measles milder has been found. The American Red Cross has announced that gamma globulin is now available through Departments of Health. Gamma globulin is made from pooled human serum. As most of the adults who contribute blood in collection centres have had measles, their blood contains antibodies against measles.

Gamma globulin is given

HOW TO BE YOUNG AT 50!

Don't feel "slowed down," tired all the time—just because you've reached middle age! Take a tip from this "young" grandmother who, like thousands of other modern people, simply refuses to allow her system to become slowed down with toxic waste—the result of too much rich, fatty food and too little exercise. She knows the natural action of Bile Beans is mild and effective—tones up the whole system by stimulating the liver—and helps to keep her fit and trim. Try them tonight. Ask your druggist for BILE BEANS—the all-vegetable remedy that "Wakes Up Nature".

If You Get Up Nights You Can't Feel Right

You have to get up 3 or 4 times a night your rest is broken and it's no wonder you feel old and run down before your time. Kidney and bladder troubles often may be the cause of many pains and symptoms simply because the kidneys may be tired and not working fast enough in filtering and removing irritating excess acids, poisons and wastes from your blood. So if you get up nights or suffer from burning, scanty or frequent passages, leg pains, backache, nervousness, due to kidney and bladder troubles, you'll make no mistake in trying Cystex. Because it has given such joyful, happy results in an high percentage of cases, Cystex is sold under an agreement of money back on return of empty packages unless completely satisfactory to you.

All Canadian But Occupation Troops Returned By Spring

OTTAWA (CP) — March or April of next year should see all Canadians repatriated from Europe with the exception of occupation troops and staffs in England, defence Minister Abbott Tuesday told the Commons. This means that about 153,000 will have to be moved back between now and the spring.

Since V-E Day, 111,000 troops have returned from the European zone, leaving fewer than 175,000 there, a number somewhat below the expectations announced in July. About 22,000 of the 175,000 will be left behind indefinitely in the army of occupation.

He conditioned his prediction with "the greatest caution" because of the shipping situation but those were the present plans. The only exceptions of "accelerated repatriation" were for return of key men in essential industry or for discharge on compassionate grounds.

He said that men returning in a unit might represent a wide range of point scores but on reaching Canada they would be discharged as individuals according to those scores or "other qualifications."

Bernadotte Sure Hitler Now Dead

HAMBURG (AP)—Count Bernadotte, vice-president of the Swedish Red Cross, said today he was "truly convinced" that Adolf Hitler is dead and expressed a personal opinion that Heinrich Himmler killed him.

The nobleman, who figured prominently in preliminary German peace negotiations through the Gestapo chief, said: "I personally am sure from what the doctors told me, from what the German generals told me and from what I saw of Hitler the last time that he is dead."

Last Minesweepers Return to Canada

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — The final chapter in the Royal Canadian Navy's operations in the second German War has been written with the arrival here of the last four ships of the Canadian 31st minesweeping flotilla to return to Canada from European waters, the navy announced today.

The ships, the Hilltown, Blairmore, Georgian and Fort William, had been busy since end of the European war helping British naval units sweep war-sown mines from the English Channel.

WAGTAILS HAVE HABIT OF MOVING TAILS AFTER RUNNING

Most small birds hop about when they are on the ground, but the wagtail runs. We may say that it runs in a "dainty" way. When it stops it wags its tail two or three times. This habit is the reason for its name.

Wagtails live in most parts of Europe and Asia. You will find them in Great Britain, and you will find them in Siberia. A few of them make their nests in Alaska, but that is the only part of this continent where true wagtails are found. No doubt they spread into Alaska from northeastern Asia.

Wagtails are chiefly ground birds. They can fly, but their flight is weak and they soon settle back to the ground. After finishing little trips through the air, they wag their tails.

The nests are made from moss, roots and grass, and are lined with hair or feathers. They may be placed on the level ground, in the midst of shrubs, or in holes in a bank. Often a wagtail nest is built in an opening in a pile of stones.

Wagtails like to live near streams or ponds. They also enjoy being at the seashore, finding food on the sand as the tide goes out.

Sometimes wagtails run after a farmer's plow. As they run, they look for insects and grubs which the plow turns up.

Wagtails are smaller than the British Isles are mostly black and white, and are called "pied wagtails." On the continent of Europe, the yellow wagtail is common. It has green feathers as well as yellow.

If we wish to find close relatives of wagtails on this continent, we may look at the pipit family. Pipits are small birds which range from one end of North America to the other. Some of them nest in northern Canada, around the Arctic Circle. In the autumn they fly south to spend the winter in Central America, along the coasts of the Gulf of Mexico.

Certain American warblers are called, at times, "wood wagtails." These birds also have the special name of "teacher birds," because they "cry, 'Teacher! Teacher! Teacher!'"

Floods On Rampage

STEWART, B.C. (CP)—A prospector narrowly escaped death, a bridge, 134 feet long, over Bitter Creek, was destroyed, roads have been inundated and bus service stalled in torrential rains which have lashed this district during the last week.

Joe Morin was swept off his feet while crossing a gully. He escaped with minor injuries when caught on a boulder 20 feet below.

Jack Benny In Comedy at Atlas

When Warner Bros. started casting for the latest Jack Benny-Alexis Smith starring picture, "The Horn Blows at Midnight," a comedy-fantasy with its action set largely in heaven, it anticipated trouble finding sufficient cherubs. The film, currently at the Atlas, deals with angels and harp-strings and such.

At first, the casting department decided to use midgets for the roles. Today's midgets, it turned out, were busy with war work so the casting department turned to babies. Then their troubles began.

Overnight, the studio was fairly besieged with photographs of babies from producers, directors, assistant directors and prop men, all anxious to have their kids appear in scenes with Jack Benny and Alexis Smith.

'Frisco Kid' Stars Cagney at York

The York Theatre tomorrow presents James Cagney in "Frisco Kid," a dramatic tale of the thrilling pioneer days of the Barbary Coast.

Bloody battles, quick hangings, unfair trials, the robbing and killing of sailors made up the ruthless underworld of those times with Bat Morgan, played by James Cagney, as its King. The battle of the vigilantes was hard until they finally succeeded in the burning of the coast section.

This gripping and vivid action is all part of the picturesque story with James Cagney as the "Frisco Kid," and Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo Cortez and Lili Damita in featured roles.

James Cagney's sterling performance of this character will be seen in Warner Bros.' release of "Frisco Kid."

CAPITOL THEATRE

In "Conflict," now showing at the Capitol Theatre, Humphrey Bogart shares starring honors with two performers already well established—Alexis Smith and Sydney Greenstreet. But he lends a helping hand to another young actress slated for early stardom

Endorses Glyoxylide

Use of glyoxylide in the hands of veterinarians has been endorsed by Agriculture Minister K. C. MacDonald following a report from the Koch investigation committee, it was announced here today.

The committee, the statement said, believed the treatment had considerable merit.

Dr. MacDonald said approximately 100 head of dairy cattle which were suffering from mastitis, sterility, infertility and other conditions, were included in the test and of those cases many had made complete recoveries.

OAK BAY-PLAZA THEATRES

George Paris, who plays the role of the manager of Tokyo's biggest hotel in the William Cagney drama, "Blood On the Sun," which co-stars James Cagney and Sylvia Sydney, is the only man in the cast who speaks Japanese fluently.

Paris spent many years in the Orient and found that the Japanese—outside the tourist hotels—resented the use of any language but theirs, especially English. As a result he had to learn Japanese to get around the country.

"Blood On the Sun" is a United Artists release, currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

DOMINION THEATRE

Evelyn Keyes, who has a comedy telephone operator sequence in Columbia Pictures' "Strange Affair," currently at the Dominion Theatre, was coached for the scene by Marguerite Chapman, also featured in the picture. Marguerite got her qualifications for the coaching job before she entered pictures, when she was a "Hello" girl in the telephone exchange in Mount Vernon, New York.

RIO THEATRE

"Thunderhead—Son of Flicka" starring Roddy McDowall, Preston Foster and Rita Johnson, has been selected by 20th Century-Fox as one of the outstanding film entertainments highlighting the studio's 30 years of leadership in the motion picture field. The picture, filmed in glorious technicolor, is now showing at the Rio Theatre.

There are well-defined points of similarity in the character of tacit, kindly, determined Job in "Mr. Skeffington," as played by Claude Rains, which is now showing at the Cadet Theatre. The personality of Rains himself, in private life, gives every indication that he is a man who has found a pattern of life eminently to his liking, and that he intends to pursue this scheme of living from which he derives contentment and satisfaction.
